PERSONAL SUMMARY

Starting from scratch, from a small village of Nepal, I have come a long way to become a successful businessman and a devoted social activist, who wants growth and integrity in both of the areas, for I have attained numerous trainings, attended many workshops and participated in several seminars in Nepal and overseas.

I have involved in numerous activities in social and political sector too. In addition to that, I have invested my physical and emotional energies to excel in whatever responsibilities I have been accorded with the larger authorities for social welfare and upliftment on ground. I am a hardworking, organized, and motivated person with a passion for politics, human rights and equality.

I am still striving to achieve a lot through participation and attendance.
